A Large & Impressive 'Black Forest' Hunt Cuckoo Clock

Carved from native Swiss Lindenwood, the wall-mounted cuckoo clock with a circular dial denoting the hours in brass roman numerals, the movement and hidden bird mechanism housed in the gabled rectangular case, adorned with carved oak leaves and branches as well as various hunting trophies including a hare, pheasant, and a pair of birds below the hunting horn circling the dial, a pair of carved hunting rifles framing the central bust of a deer atop the clock.

Swiss, circa 1890

Dimensions: H: 50.5 in / 128 cm | W: 31.5 in / 80 cm

Perhaps the best known export of the Brienz area, this 'Black Forest' cuckoo clock is set apart by its sheer scale, sensitive carving and accomplished patination.
